1. Welcome

   Welcome to October General Membership Meeting

   a. Tribute to Pamela Atkinson

      Pamela Atkinson, who died on October 10, 2026, spent her life serving people others overlooked. Born into poverty in London, she became a nurse educator and health care executive, helped establish clinics for underserved communities, and advised four Utah governors. Many called her "Utah's Mother Teresa."

      She was equally at home at the Capitol and in a homeless encampment. She carried food, blankets, and clothing in her vehicle, and often gave her personal cell number to people experiencing homelessness so they could reach her when they needed help. A former state senator said she cared for "the one," whether that person sat in the governor's chair or on a downtown curb.

      Her name remains on the Fourth Street Clinic, Pamela's Place Apartments, the Pamela Atkinson Resource Center, and a state trust fund that pays for emergency services, housing, and other support for people in need. She often deflected praise. At the groundbreaking for Pamela's Place, she said the day belonged to the building and the people it would serve.

      Her legacy lives on in the people she helped and in the example she set of showing up, listening, and treating everyone with dignity.
